Hundreds rally on the steps of the legislature building against the proposed PST increase. JOHN WOODS/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hundreds rally to protest a 1% hike to the PST

Unhappy taxpayers. Protesters call the PST increase illegal, demand a referendum

Criticism

"They doubled our debt, they doubled their red tape ... and now they want to raise your (sales tax)."
Opposition Progressive Conservative Leader Brian Pallister

About 500 people gathered outside the legislature Thursday evening to protest Manitoba's planned sales tax increase.

Opposition parties, restaurant owners and representatives of the Canadian Taxpayers Federation denounced the tax hike as a big blow to people's wallets.

They also blasted the government for changing a law in order to avoid holding a referendum, which is currently required for any sales tax increase.

The NDP government announced in last month's budget that the provincial sales tax will jump to eight per cent from seven per cent as of July 1.

The government says the new money is needed to pay for schools, hospitals and flood-fighting projects.

But critics say the government should tighten its belt instead of raising major taxes for the second year in a row.

"They doubled our debt, they doubled their red tape .... and now they want to raise your (sales tax)," Opposition Progressive Conservative Leader Brian Pallister told the crowd.

"Consider the auto dealership or the building supply shop that's worried you're going to go to the States or to Saskatchewan ... before making a big purchase," said Janine Carmichael, Manitoba director of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

The controversy could make for a long spring sitting of the legislature. Manitoba is one of the few provinces with mandatory public hearings on all bills, and more than 100 people have already signed up to speak to the new legislation. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Double fanfare. May the Fourth be with you, Winnipeg

With both Star Wars Day: May the Fourth Be With You and International Comic Book Day, May is always a big month on the geek calendar, but this year both celebrations fall on the same day — and a local costume club and comic shop are marking the occasion with a nerdgasm the likes of which is seldom seen in this part of the galaxy.

Hidden City Comics is teaming up with Manitoba's only Lucasfilm-approved costuming club, Clan Vhetin'Ade of the Mandalorian Mercs, to host the get-together at the comic shop Saturday afternoon.

"Because Comic Book Day falls on the first Saturday of every May, and May the Fourth this year just sort of coincides," said Dallas Hollett, leader — or alor'ad in Mandalorian — of the Clan Vhetin'Ade. "It's a double hit of total geek culture."

Hidden City Comics owner George Weinpold explained that International Comic Book Day was started five years ago by publishers as a way of promoting comics and encouraging kids to read.

He's got more than 500 brand new comics from names including DC, Marvel, Archie, Image and Dark Horse waiting to hand out for free at the event.

The event runs noon to 5 p.m. at Hidden City Comics at 845 Henderson Hwy.

No media allowed at Trudeau talk at Sisler: School board

Petty politics?
Justin Trudeau taken aback by media ban

Federal Liberal Leader Justin Trudeau blamed "petty politics" on the part of a school board for the abrupt derailing of one of his media events Thursday.

Reporters and camera operators who had been invited to watch Trudeau speak to students at Sisler High School in Winnipeg were told 20 minutes ahead of time that they would have to leave. The teacher who organized Trudeau's appearance said word had come down from the Winnipeg School Division that allowing media to be present would make the event seem partisan.

Trudeau was taken aback.

"I have had the pleasure of dropping in to Sisler on just about every single one of my visits to Winnipeg over the past eight years or so," Trudeau said afterward.

Lorie Turtal, right, and Florita Pacle shared a laugh with Justin Trudeau in the food court at TD Centre in downtown Winnipeg over the lunch hour Thursday. Trudeau also stopped by Sisler High School the same day. SHANE GIBSON/METRO

"It's unfortunate that someone at the board level decided that they needed to play politics and not highlight my visit there, but the conversation with the students was phenomenal."

There was no response from school division headquarters.

Other politicians have been allowed to stage events on school grounds. The school division's website includes photographs of NDP Premier Greg Selinger making a funding announcement last month at Queenston School, which is also in the Winnipeg School Division.

Later Thursday, Trudeau talked with patrons at a downtown food court. He spent almost an hour milling about and posing for photographs. Other Liberals followed him, asking those who had met Trudeau whether they wanted to become party supporters or provide their email addresses.

Local politics. Councillors spar over proposed cuts

Coun. Russ Wyatt and Coun. Paula Havixbeck METRO

Two city councillors accused each other of grandstanding after a couple of nasty exchanges during Thursday's finance committee meeting.

The exchanges were over comments made earlier this week by Coun. Russ Wyatt, where the chair of the finance committee called for drastic cuts to programs and projects in order to create a new infrastructure fund.

Moments after the meeting started, Coun. Paula Havixbeck moved a motion to allow several people to speak to Wyatt's proposed cuts.

Wyatt and fellow committee member Coun. Grant Nordman voted down the motion, prompting Havixbeck to say "that's really unfortunate, that democracy loses."

"We're not here to grandstand for you, Coun. Havixbeck," replied Wyatt.

A second attempt by Havixbeck to bring up the proposed cuts during new business was also voted down.

After the meeting, Wyatt said Havixbeck should have informed the committee beforehand about her intentions.

Havixbeck accused Wyatt of grandstanding and said those who wanted to speak in delegation deserve to be heard.

Harry Wolbert of the Winnipeg Transit Riders' Association said he was disappointed to be denied the opportunity to address Wyatt's comments, in particular his proposal to axe the second phase of rapid transit corridor linking downtown Winnipeg to the University of Manitoba. METRO

Siloam Mission. 500 jobs, 500 homes in 5 years

Siloam Mission is aiming to build 500 homes and help create 500 jobs in five years for people who are, or have been, homeless.

And the Winnipeg charity is looking to the U.S. city of Portland, Ore., for advice.

Siloam Mission launched their "Vision 500" during a breakfast event Thursday morning that featured Richard Harris, who served as addictions and mental health director for the State of Oregon for more than three years and spent 15 years helping to transform Portland's decaying neighbourhoods.

Floyd Perras, Siloam's executive director, said the emphasis on housing and jobs worked in Portland and will work in Winnipeg.

"Revitalizing our core area through employment training and affordable housing is not only compassionate, it's also good for business and good for our city," said Perras in a press release.

The recent re-opening of The Madison, a supportive, affordable housing unit for 85 people, is Siloam's first step towards Vision 500, and the Mission has also purchased the property at 300 Princess St. to turn it into affordable housing. METRO

Cloud computing centre to bring jobs

Canadian Tire. New office in downtown Winnipeg will provide 50 Manitobans with employment

BERNICE PONTANILLA
bernice.pontanilla@metronews.ca

The ribbon cutting may have been virtual, but the jobs and the investment being made in downtown Winnipeg is certainly real.

Eugene Roman, senior vice-president of information technology for Canadian Tire, announced on Thursday that the company will be moving into the 28,000-square-foot second floor at the Air Canada Centre on Portage Avenue this fall.

That's where the famed national corporation is opening its Cloud Computing Centre, which will house a digital content warehouse, application lab, testing lab and high performance data centre expected to provide 50 jobs to local Manitobans.

Roman said he was impressed when he visited the city last October by the number of other businesses who offered their support.

"I was surprised when I came in October, a room full of people from various sectors saying 'How can we help you?' and that's fantastic and that's why we're here," said Roman, who chose not to disclose how much money the investment in the centre will be, other than to say it is "significant."

The computing centre will serve as the core digital hub for Canadian Tire companies and will also house a data centre to produce apps for tablets and smart phones.

Premier Greg Selinger said Canadian Tire is receiving about $900,000 as part of the province's data processing investment tax credit.

No 'power of life and death' for robots: UN

Lethal. Professor calls for a moratorium on all killer machines until rules can be developed for their use

Killer robots that can attack targets without any human input "should not have the power of life and death over human beings," a new UN report says.

The report for the UN Human Rights Commission posted online this week deals with legal and philosophical issues involved in giving robots lethal powers over humans.

Report author Christof Heyns, a South African professor of human-rights law, calls for a worldwide moratorium on the "testing, production, assembly, transfer, acquisition, deployment and use" of killer robots until rules can be developed for their use.

His findings are due to be debated at the Human Rights Council in Geneva on May 29.

According to the report, the United States, Britain, Israel, South Korea and Japan have developed various types of fully or semi-autonomous weapons.

In the report, Heyns focuses on a new generation of weapons that choose their targets and execute them.

He calls them "lethal autonomous robotics," or LARs for short, and says: "Decisions over life and death in armed conflict may require compassion and intuition. Humans — while they are fallible — at least might possess these qualities, whereas robots definitely do not."

The report goes beyond the recent debate over drone killings of al-Qaida suspects and nearby civilians who are maimed or killed in the air strikes. Drones do have human oversight. The killer robots are programmed to make autonomous decisions on the spot without orders from humans.

'Culture of secrecy.' Free-speech group gives federal government a D-minus

A test project that allows requests for information to be made online is among a few positive developments that have lifted the federal government's overall transparency performance to a barely passing grade, according to a new report by a free-speech advocacy group.

At the same time, the report by Canadian Journalists for Free Expression takes aim at the Conservative government for its "culture of secrecy" as epitomized by the muzzling of federal scientists.

"There are good reasons to go even lower than last year's failing F," states the Review of Free Expression Canada, released ahead of Friday's World Press Freedom Day. "But rather than repeating this dismal year, we hope the federal government will heed the many voices calling for change."

Overall, the group's 2012-13 report gives the federal government a D-minus.

Among other things, Canada's "archaic" law governing access to information ranked 55th out of 93 countries that have such laws, the report says.

"We have been concerned for some time about the growing stranglehold on information available to Canadians," CJFE president Arnold Amber said in a statement.

Among signs of hope, the report points to government plans to make summaries of completed access to information requests searchable across all departments and a push by Information Commissioner Suzanne Legault to update the act.

Coronavirus. Five deaths in seven new cases reported by Saudi Arabia

The World Health Organization would like more and quicker information about new coronaviruses cases, the organization's head of infectious diseases said Thursday after Saudi Arabia surprised the world with the news it had found seven more coronavirus infections.

The Saudi ministry of health revealed late Wednesday that it had diagnosed the new cases, which bring the global case count to 24. Five of the new seven cases had died by the time the Saudi government told the World Health Organization that additional cases had been found.

Though the majority of the total cases — 16 of which have been fatal — have come from Saudi Arabia, the Saudi government has been very closed-mouthed about the outbreak.

Cancer drug Avastin linked to flesh-eating disease

Necrotizing fasciitis. Health Canada issues a warning after two Canadian cases, one of which was fatal

Health Canada is warning that the cancer drug Avastin has been linked in rare cases to necrotizing fasciitis, the fast-moving bacterial infection also known as flesh-eating disease.

Two Canadians taking Avastin developed necrotizing fasciitis and one of them died, the federal department said Thursday in a warning issued in conjunction with the drug's manufacturer, Hoffmann-La Roche Ltd.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration published a similar warning in mid-March, indicating that cases of the tissue-destroying infection have mainly been seen in people with wound-healing complications or certain internal bleeding conditions.

A safety review of the drug by Roche identified 52 cases of necrotizing fasciitis reported worldwide between November 1997 and September 2012; 17 of them were fatal, including the one Canadian.

The cases occurred in patients treated with Avastin for several types of cancer. About two-thirds were being treated for colorectal cancer; 21 of the patients had gastrointestinal perforation, fistula formation or wound-healing complications that preceded the onset of the often deadly infection.

2 girls killed by poisoned yogurt over school rivalry

Chinese state media say two girls have died after eating poisoned yogurt placed outside their kindergarten at the direction of the head of a rival school.

The Xinhua News Agency says police believe the poisoning was motivated by competition for students between the schools.

It says the head of the rival kindergarten confessed that she injected the yogurt with rat poison and asked a man to place it with notebooks on the road to the rival kindergarten in Pingshan county in Hebei province.

Xinhua said Thursday that the girls' grandmother found the books and yogurt and took them home on April 24. The children suffered convulsions after drinking the yogurt and died later.

Xinhua said police detained the woman and the man. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Central banking stunner.
Economist Stephen Poloz named new BoC governor

Stephen Poloz, the former head of Export Development Canada, was named Thursday as the next governor of the Bank of Canada, replacing Mark Carney, whose term ends June 1.

The appointment to a seven-year term follows a lengthy five-month search process set in motion by Finance Minister Jim Flaherty after Carney announced he would step down June 1.

"Stephen Poloz has a long and distinguished career in the public and private sectors with 30 years experience in financial markets, forecasting and economic policy," Flaherty told a news conference.

The early favourite to replace him had been Tiff Macklem, 51, the second-in-command at the bank who had apparently been groomed for the prestigious post. Indeed, many central-bank watchers described Thursday's news as a stunner.

"Why did the finance minister decide to take this direction as opposed to the widely expected choice of going with the current senior deputy governor? The answer may be that the minister would like to see a governor with more experience with dealing directly with the private sector," said a CIBC note to clients. THE CANADIAN PRESS

5 Consumed. This new book by Canadian author Sarah Elton provides a thoughtful, inspiring look at the future of food on our planet in the face of climate change and population growth. Food sustainability issues have never been more pertinent, and Elton travels the planet — from rural India to Detroit (yes, Detroit) — to find unique forms of modern agriculture in development. Consumed: Food for a Finite Planet may well change how you view, and consume, food. A must read.

Green and yellow water in White Sea

FRANCO BANFI/SOLENT

Divers take a dip in icy emerald sea

Braving sub-zero conditions, eerie light overhead and perilous darkness below, two scuba divers explore a mysterious but extraordinary underworld beneath layers of ice. This fascinating picture taken by photographer Franco Banfi reveals what lies beneath the iced surface of the White Sea on Russia's north-west coast.

The water's colours of green are created from humus — a major component in the organic matter of soil. The water is even yellowish and brownish in hue near the river mouths where humus content is high. The ice itself is often coloured by algae, which provides a major food source for marine life. The world's northernmost regions have some of the most coloured waters.

was the temperature of Russia's White Sea during Banfi's expedition. Salt causes water to freeze at a lower temperature. Salt molecules act in a way that shields the water molecules from interacting among themselves, making it less likely that ice will be formed.

It's been a little while since we checked up on some of the great Canadian talent available on Band Camp, an online music store that allows customers to buy music directly from artists. Here are three recent additions that are worth checking out.

The Grey Owls:
Banjo, mandolin and sparkling harmonies. Sounds pretty good, right? It is. (jordanfaye.bandcamp.com)

Blackout Beach:
It's been a while since I've listened to anything from Frog Eyes, but Carey Mercer's yelp is as tightly wound as ever on this album, recorded in the B.C. barn studio of Dante Decaro. (blackoutbeach.bandcamp.com)

Pow Wows:
If you listen to enough surf and garage rock, it all tends to bleed into one ramshackle song. But I cherish that song and Ottawa's Pow Wows crash their way through it beautifully. (bruisedtongue.bandcamp.com)

RE: Six Ways to Kill a Cyclist, published April 28

We should not be focusing on driver training, cyclist education, cyclist protective gear (helmets, etc.), or anything like that in terms of increasing cyclist safety. WE SHOULD BE FOCUSING ON PROVIDING PROPER INFRASTRUCTURE.

We can't leave the street as a wide, empty, basically blank canvas for cars to completely dominate and then expect everyone to try and be egalitarian and altruistic.

Providing legitimate, separated, exclusive cycle tracks for cyclists is the only way to properly protect drivers, cyclists, and pedestrians as it provides a buffer between all three.

Synopsis

It's May 3 and there's a new Iron Man movie. That means it's summer movie season and soon theatres will be filled with angry aliens, hungry zombies and giant sea monsters. There will also be some wild movie characters as well. It's popcorn movie season and this week the Reel Guys have a look at what movies make them hot as the temperature rises.

Iron Man 3 hits theatres Friday and heralds the beginning of summer blockbuster season and the Reel Guys are making their summer picks. HANDOUT

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

Summer must-sees

Preview. The days are getting longer and warmer — and the Reel Guys can't wait to hide out in a dark movie theatre!

Richard: Mark, summer movies leave me feeling conflicted. I'm always in the mood for something with substance, so I'll definitely line up to see Before Midnight, the third part of the Ethan Hawke-Julie Delpy relationship trilogy, but man, there's something about the hot weather that makes me want to watch things explode. To satisfy that basic need, Star Trek Into Darkness is high on my list. How about you?

Mark: Richard, there are two kinds of people: Star Trek people and Star Wars people. Unfortunately, I am neither. I am looking forward to the Superman reboot, Man Of Steel. Nothing says "popcorn movie" better than the granddaddy of all superheroes. I'm also looking forward to Wolverine. He's the most complex and nuanced of all the X-Men characters and I enjoyed the first one even more than the rest of the X-Men series. By the way, I'm not a Before Midnight guy either. During the first two, I kept hoping both characters would fall into the Seine.

RC: How about zombies? I'm a big fan of The Walking Dead so I'm looking forward to World War Z filling the gap between seasons of the show. If brain-eating undeads aren't your thing, however, how about some brain dead teen thieves? The Bling Ring is Sofia Coppola's movie about real-life rich kids who used the Internet to track the whereabouts of celebrities and then rob their homes. It'll be the opposite of a gritty true crime story — one of the victims, Paris Hilton, even has a cameo — but fans of L.A. and Louboutins should find something to like here.

MB: Two good choices, Richard! I don't even like zombie movies and I can't wait for World War Z! Brad Pitt and millions of rotting ugly faces — the contrast alone will be high drama. And I like everything Sofia Coppola does. And if we're talking indie films, what about The Wonderful Now, a coming-of-age rom com that was a Sundance favourite this year? Or on a different note, Lovelace, the biopic of the Deep Throat star which asks the burning question: how badly does Amanda Seyfried want to change her image?

RC: After The Big Wedding, Seyfried needs to shake things up a bit. I think the wildest movie of the summer might turn out to be Pacific Rim. Sea monsters versus robots? I'm in.

MB: I'm looking forward to a movie where there won't be a single human to get in the way. Or there's always the next Vin Diesel picture.

Bill has made a documentary, dude

Downloaded. Even 25 years later, Alex Winter still gets plenty of questions about Bill & Ted and the biggest of all — will there be another?

Alex Winter's latest project is a documentary focused on the rise and fall of Napster. GETTY IMAGES

No matter that the slacker comedy is nearly 25 years old, or that the guy who played Bill to Keanu Reeves' Ted has moved on to directing serious documentary projects.

The 47-year-old Winter says he's still recognized "all day, every day" as the dim-witted teen history buff from the 1989 comedy, even as he makes the rounds at the Canadian International Documentary Festival with his Napster-focused saga Downloaded.

"Everywhere in the world," Winter says of Bill's widespread reach during a recent interview in Toronto.

"I literally was shooting a car commercial in the Sahara Desert, I am not joking — on a dune — and got recognized."

Winter says his acting days are largely behind him and that his real passion has always been to direct.

He began working on Downloaded nearly 10 years ago, when he envisioned it as a dramatic feature tracing the rise and fall of Napster and its young-but-brilliant masterminds Shawn Fanning and Sean Parker.

Winter says he wrote the script for Paramount in 2004, spending "a couple of years" researching and writing it well before 2010's The Social Network traced a similar line for Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg.

"There was probably a million reasons why (it didn't get made) but it was also just very early to be telling a story about the digital revolution," says Winter, who cut his teeth directing music videos and commercials.

As for ongoing speculation of a long-awaited follow-up to the Bill & Ted sequel Bill & Ted's Bogus Journey, Winter is concise in his response: "I can't comment."

Which, of course, only suggests that the project is finally happening, right?

"I hope so," Winter says cryptically, insisting he can't say more.

"People who are Bill & Ted fans tend to be really sweet so I think it's awesome," he says of lingering nostalgia.

Downloaded screens Friday at Toronto's Hot Docs festival.

Action

Iron Man 3

Director. Shane Black

Stars. Robert Downey Jr., Don Cheadle, Gwyneth Paltrow

In the third instalment of the popular series, The Mandarin (Sir Ben Kingsley), an Osama bin Laden wannabe, is terrorizing the planet. The situation becomes personal when Stark's girlfriend Pepper (Gwyneth Paltrow) and bodyguard (Jon Favreau) are threatened by the madman. Iron Man 3 is a huge summer action movie, but it's darker and talkier than parts one and two. The story is deeper than previously but I have one complaint: It's hard to understand why Robert Downey Jr. doesn't spend more time in the iron suit.

In Your Dreams

Director. Stevie Nicks, David A. Stewart

Stars. Glen Ballard, Lindsey Buckingham

Detailing the making of Fleetwood Mac singer Stevie Nicks' latest solo record this new doc falls somewhere between an episode of VH1's Behind the Music and a home movie. There is insight into the creative process—how these songs are built, layer-by-layer—and the working relationship the singer has with collaborator Dave Stewart (formerly of Eurythmics). Mostly though it's a rare peek at musicians — hermetically sealed in their Southern California pop star bubble — that adds a new chapter to Nicks' storybook career. RICHARD CROUSE

Documentary

The Gatekeepers

Stars. Ami Ayalon, Avi Dichter

Director. Dror Moreh

The Gatekeepers examines 45 years of fruitless peacemaking in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict from those directly responsible for its security, the heads of secret agency Shin Bet. The Oscar foreign-language nominee certainly creates a chilling atmosphere with its secret footage and seemingly futile outlook, but ultimately that disparate account leads to what may be missing in most of the movies we see that deal with the subject from a victim's perspective.

Edgar Bergen and his beloved dummy

Film. Candice Bergen's latest project will focus on her father's life as a ventriloquist

A happy family: Charlie, Candice and Edgar. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FILE

Candice Bergen is producing a film about her late father, the famed ventriloquist Edgar Bergen, a spokeswoman said Tuesday.

The big-screen project will tell the story of Bergen's dad and his ventriloquist's dummy that became an unlikely celebrity, spokeswoman Heidi Schaeffer said. The movie will be based on Candice Bergen's 1984 memoir, Knock Wood.

In a statement, Murphy Brown star Bergen said her father was overshadowed by the three-foot-long wood character named Charlie McCarthy, who got the best lines while the reserved Edgar Bergen played straight man.

"This creation took over and eclipsed the creator," Candice Bergen said. "It was the dummy that wouldn't die. All the fan mail initially went to Charlie. And Edgar wasn't really welcome at parties in the beginning unless Charlie was with him. It was totally surreal."

James Francis Trezza and Pam Widener, who are producing the film with Bergen, said they want to introduce a new generation to the early days of American show business, from vaudeville through the birth of TV, and explore how Bergen navigated its changes.

Barbara Turner, who worked with Trezza and Widener on the Oscar-winning Jackson Pollock biographical film Pollock, is writing the script.

Charlie "was truly Bergen's alter ego and, perhaps more interestingly, he was America's alter ego," producer Widener said in a statement. "At a time when manners and standards ruled the airwaves, Charlie said the unsayable and got away with it." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's that girl with the 'Virgin Bachelor'? It's not his fiancée ...

The "Virgin Bachelor" Sean Lowe boarded an L.A. flight on April 25 for a public appearance in North Carolina.

He didn't take fiancée Catherine Giudici along with him, but rather it was his Dancing With the Stars partner, Peta Murgatroyd, who was his seatmate, reports Life & Style.

An eyewitness tells the magazine: "It was his dance partner from the show. I couldn't believe my eyes."

Lowe is now on the defensive, saying Murgatroyd went with him so they could "squeeze in more rehearsal time." I wonder what else they "squeezed in" on that trip?

Spice Girls lose some of their, well, spice

THE WORD

The Spice Girls' West End musical, Viva Forever!, which features the girl band's songs, is closing eight months early due to slow ticket sales. The show was scheduled to run until February 2014, but it will now close next month.

Spice Girl Geri Halliwell (a.k.a Ginger Spice) has expressed her disappointment on Twitter, writing, "We love u all Viva Forever, what a shock, gutted."

A message from the show's producer, Judy Craymer, reads: "Despite the wonderful audiences, extremely positive feedback and the standing ovation at every performance … we just can't make it work.

"Viva Forever! may be taking its leave for now in the West End but the legacy of Spice Girls will never fade!"

Yeah, no. Actually, if your musical closes after four months, your legacy is fading. That's exactly what that means.

She might be drunk and disorderly, but Reese is definitely not pregnant

Two weeks after she was arrested for disorderly conduct and her husband was arrested for a DUI while in Atlanta, Reese Witherspoon is attempting damage control.

"We had one too many glasses of wine. We thought we were fine to drive and we absolutely were not," she told Good Morning America. "I saw (the officer) arresting my husband and I literally panicked. I said all kinds of crazy things. I told him I was pregnant — I'm not pregnant." She told him she was pregnant? Did she think the officer would be more sympathetic to a drunk pregnant woman?

While it may not be politically correct to admit, when it comes to just about anything, "looks" really do matter. Of course, what each of us considers attractive can be subjective. What turns my head may turn your stomach.

Wine marketers spend exorbitant amounts of time trying to figure out ways to make their brands stand out on the shelf, and the label is a wine's way of making a first impression.

I have two words for those who scoff at artsy wine panels: Mouton Rothschild. The über famous Bordeaux winemaker has been commissioning famous painters to spruce up its labels since 1946.

California's Bear Flag Smooth Red ($12.95 to $13.99) may not be as posh as Mouton, but its label adds new meaning to the term decorative. It's a natural to wash down grilled burgers and will look great doing it.

Who says you can't have pie for breakfast?

Brekkie pie. This favourite includes scrambled eggs, breakfast sausage and bacon, baked in a crisp pastry —what more could you want?

1. Thaw pie shells and pastry rounds, then follow package directions to pre-cook pie shells. Rounds will be used raw.

2. Whisk 8 eggs together with salt and pepper until smooth.

3. Add butter to large saucepan on medium heat. Add sausage and bacon to pan and cook for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally, until bacon fat has rendered off, about 5 minutes.

4. Add whisked eggs to pan. Continue mixing until eggs begin to set and are slightly white in colour. Add grape tomatoes and green onions.

5. Remove pan from heat. Add cream cheese and hollandaise sauce. Mix well.

6. Divide mixture equally in bottom of each shell and cover with pie shell top. Press edges with fork to seal.

7. Brush beaten egg on tops using pastry brush.

8. Place pies in 375 F oven and cook until pastry is golden and crispy, about 12 minutes.

9. Remove from oven and allow to cool slightly. Serve with your favourite salad.

Chef's Tip: Purchase packaged pie shells and pastry dough from grocery store.

Just the breakfast basics: Simple Quinoa Crepes

Ingredients

- 175 ml (3/4 cup) quinoa flour
- 3 omega-3 eggs
- 50 ml (1/4 cup) canola oil
- 250 ml (1 cup) organic vanilla soy beverage

This recipe makes 12 crepes. THE CANADIAN PRESS

"The crepes are fantastic," says Marilyn Smith, editor of The Vegetarian's Complete Quinoa Cookbook. "I'm really impressed with the crepes just because it's so different."

This recipe will give you a slightly sweet basic crepe that you can use in recipes with fruit or sweeter sauces.

1. In a food processor fitted with a metal blade, process flour, eggs, oil and soy beverage for 10 to 15 seconds, until smooth (batter must be lump free). Refrigerate batter for at least 30 minutes before cooking. This allows bubbles to dissipate and gives a nicer finished product.

2. Very lightly grease a small frying pan (18 cm/7 inches) with canola oil. You may only have to do this once; a lightly seasoned pan will give you a more uniform crepe.

3. Spoon a scant 45 ml (3 tbsp) of the batter into pan and rotate pan around so that there is an even coating on the bottom of it. Try not to run batter up the sides as this will over-crisp the edges. Turn crepe over after 30 seconds. Crepe will be lightly browned on both sides and will be flexible (for folding or rolling).

4. Place cooked crepes on a plate lined with parchment paper to cool. They can be used in other crepe recipes or can be frozen at this point for later use. Freeze in small amounts, placing a small piece of parchment between crepes and wrapping them in clear plastic wrap. Freeze for up to 1 month.

One tequila, two tequila, three tequila...

Bottoms up! The third annual Tequila Festival takes place Friday and Saturday at Area Nightclub, 172 Pembina Hwy. If you're going to party this weekend, you may as well do it by indulging in all the tequilas that Mexico has to offer. (Just make sure you find a safe ride home!) Energy 106's JD Frances will be hosting the party. Check out areawinnipeg.com.

Clownin' around

Send in the clowns! (I just died a little writing that.) If you're not terrified of clowns like I am, then you've gotta check out the Khartum Shriners 80th Annual Shrine Circus at Red River Exhibition Park on Saturday. The kids will love the parade band, clowns, cotton candy, light-saber toys, and of course the performance. The circus is in town for one day only, but the upside is there are three shows. Tickets are $13 in advance at Safeway and $15 at the door. Visit khartumshriners.org.

The Pride and joy of country

Country music's hottest ticket, Charley Pride, takes the stage at the Centennial Concert Hall on Saturday afternoon. With a career spanning nearly five decades, Pride is one of country's bestselling artists of all time, second only to Elvis Presley. Special guest Bobby Wright, dubbed "The Long Tall Texan" will take the stage as a special guest. Tickets are $74.50 to $81.50 at Ticketmaster.

Walk to support MS research

Lace up your sneakers for the MS Walk taking place at the University of Manitoba's Max Bell Centre this Sunday. Join thousands of other Manitobans to help end multiple sclerosis. Funds raised from this annual event will go toward MS research. Whether you know somebody affected by MS or not, come out and show your support. Registration starts at 8 a.m. and the walk and run at 10 a.m. To register, check out mswalks.ca.

Kickstart your heart

Tommy Lee and the boys are rocking the MTS Centre in the biggest Canadian tour of the iconic rock band's history! Formed in 1981, Motley Crue was, and arguably still is, one of the greatest hair metal bands. This show will have everyone from teenagers to soccer moms rocking out to hits like Girls, Girls, Girls, Smoking in the Boys Room, and Dr. Feelgood. The show kicks off at 7:30 p.m. with Big Wreck, and tickets range from $27.75 to $131 at Ticketmaster.

Like comedy? This guy might be your Bagg

Starting on Tuesday, funnyman Ian Bagg will make you laugh your head off at Rumor's Restaurant and Comedy Club for a five-night run. Bagg is a Canadian who lives in L.A. He's made repeated performances on the late night talk show circuit, including stints on Conan O'Brian, Jay Leno, and Craig Ferguson. Tickets range from $12 to $15. TASTE NEW OPTIONS AROUND DOWNTOWN

Shake off those winter blues by grabbing your friends and co-workers for an affordable lunch in style at the best Winnipeg restaurants with Let's Do Lunch Downtown. From May 6-31, the culinary scene will be in full bloom with mouth-watering and affordable fixed lunchtime menus ranging from Mexican at La Bamba on Portage to contemporary dining at the historic Met.

"It's the perfect reason now that the weather is finally warming up to get out of your office and sample some of the fantastic options around downtown," says Downtown Winnipeg Biz marketing manager Signy Gerrard.

It's easy to fit in some of the delicious lunch combinations from the Pony Corral or the Current, or spend a leisurely hour at Hy's Steakhouse or Sydney's at the Forks.

Gerrard recommends getting a group of co-workers together and booking a free spot on the promotion's vintage Winnipeg Trolley, which will take you to your dining destination, like The Keg's award-winning patio for a perfectly seasoned pepper-steak sauté, and drop you back at the office afterwards.

Before you make your next reservation at your new favourite restaurant, enter a draw to win a chance at a $500 tasting tour of the participating restaurants.

PAPA JOHN'S — A COMMITMENT TO QUALITY

Papa John's opened a new location at the corner of Dakota and St. Mary's last week.

"This will be our fourth location in the city" says Erin Macdonald, local co-franchisee. "We are excited to be joining the St. Vital community."

The 620 Dakota St. location will feature carryout and delivery.

"We cut our vegetables fresh daily, use 100 per cent real meat and cheese," Macdonald says. "It is our commitment to quality that sets us apart."

Papa John's uses a special blend of flour and clear-filtered water to make its dough.

"This gives our crust a consistently hearty texture with every bite," Macdonald says.

The dough is made fresh (never frozen) and follows a unique three-day process, allowing the dough to proof slowly and naturally before it is hand-tossed and baked.

"Great crust comes from dough which has been given proper time to work its natural magic," Macdonald says.

Every original crust pizza comes with a free special garlic dipping sauce and pepperoncini.

Customers can also order their pizza online at papajohns.com and earn points redeemable for free pizza.

"People spend so much time on the computer now so it's just more convenient for them," Macdonald says.

Sens' Anderson the difference in Game 1

NHL playoffs. Sens score three unanswered to grab series lead

Game 1

Senators	Canadiens

Jakob Silfverberg and Marc Methot scored early in the third period as the Ottawa Senators rode brilliant goaltending from Craig Anderson to a 4-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens on Thursday night.

The win gave Ottawa a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference quarter-final series, with Game 2 set for Friday night at the Bell Centre.

Erik Karlsson and Guillaume Latendresse also scored for the Senators, who were outshot 50-31 but had Anderson easily win the goaltending duel with Carey Price, who was beaten twice through the five-hole.

Rene Bourque and Brendan Gallagher replied for Montreal, which set a team record for shots in a regulation-time playoff game.

The first playoff series between the Northeast Division rivals didn't take long to get nasty.

Montreal centre Lars Eller was wheeled off on a stretcher bleeding heavily from the nose and was taken to hospital with what the team said was head and facial injuries after he was caught with a shoulder to the face on a hit from Senators defenceman Eric Gryba.

Gryba was given an interference major and a game misconduct and could face further discipline from the NHL.

Anderson was sharp as the Senators weathered a fierce Canadiens push in the first 10 minutes before Karlsson put on a show for the opening goal at 17:25.

The 2012 Norris Trophy winner skated through the neutral zone into Montreal territory and worked a give-and-go with Kyle Turris, redirecting the return pass along the ice between Price's pads. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Elbow on Grabovski costs Ference Game 2

Boston Bruins defenceman Andrew Ference has been suspended one game for an illegal check to the head of Toronto Maple Leafs forward Mikhail Grabovski.

Ference, 5-11 and 189 pounds, went unpunished in the first period of Boston's 4-1 playoff win Wednesday night when he elbowed Grabovski in the head by the boards.

The five-foot-11, 183-pound Grabovski finished the game.

"I just remember a pretty hard hit to my head," the Belarusian forward told reporters Thursday before the ban was handed down.

The league called the hit reckless in ruling that Ference, after playing the puck in the corner, had lunged towards the oncoming Leaf, "extending his left arm and shoulder, picking Grabovski's head and making it the principal point of contact."

"What you wear doesn't have anything to do with how you play on the basketball floor."

Knicks coach Mike Woodson on his players' fashion statement — wearing black to Game 5 of their series vs. Boston, which they expected to be the Celtics' "funeral." Woodson sure didn't like the wardrobe choice as the Celtics have now won two in a row and are trying to become the first NBA team to win a series after falling behind 3-0.

Ovi and friends open strong vs. Rangers

Alex Ovechkin's franchise-record 31st career playoff goal got the Capitals started before less-heralded teammates Marcus Johansson and Jason Chimera scored 46 seconds apart, and Washington beat the New York Rangers 3-1 Thursday night in Game 1 of their first-round series.

Ovechkin, a two-time MVP who led the NHL with 32 goals this season, crashed the net to score on a power play about seven minutes into the second period to tie the game for the Capitals, the third-seeded team in the Eastern Conference.

Game 1

Capitals	Rangers

Carl Hagelin had put sixth-seeded New York ahead 1-0 in the first period — the only puck that made it past Braden Holtby, who finished with 35 saves.

Game 2 of the best-of-seven series is Saturday in Washington.

It's the third consecutive season these two teams are facing each other in the playoffs and the fourth time in five years. The Rangers eliminated the Capitals in seven games in the second round last season.

Canada brings big guns to Stockholm

Forward thinking. Steve Stamkos leads a formidable attack into Canada's opening game against Denmark

Canada's strength at the men's world hockey championship is up front.

Firepower at forward puts Canada among the favourites to win the International Ice Hockey Federation's premier tournament.

Led by the Tampa Bay Lightning's Steven Stamkos, twice the winner of the NHL's Maurice Richard Trophy as the league's top goal scorer, Canada's forwards boast substantial international experience and success in the NHL.

Games start Friday, but Canada opens Saturday against Denmark, followed by Switzerland on Sunday. Canada hasn't won a world title since 2007 and exited in the tournament with quarter-final losses the last three years.

Stockholm and Helsinki are co-hosting the men's world tournament for a second straight year with the Swedish capital the site of the medal games this time.

Defending champion Russia is a co-favourite as that country gears up to host the 2014 Winter Olympics in Sochi.

The host Swedes and Finns, the Czech Republic and last year's surprise silver medallist Slovakia are also contenders in the 16-team field.

Canada's Stamkos, Eric Staal, Taylor Hall of the Edmonton Oilers, Claude Giroux of the Philadelphia Flyers and Andrew Ladd of the Winnipeg Jets finished among the top 20 scorers in the NHL this lockout-shortened season.

Jordan Eberle was third in scoring for the Oilers and is playing in his fourth straight world championship. Matt Duchene was one of Colorado's top two producers and is appearing in his third.

But Canada isn't nearly as decorated or experienced on defence or in goal. Of the seven defenders named to the team, Philadelphia's Luke Schenn and Stephane Robidas of the Dallas Stars are the only two with previous world championship experience.

With the NHL's regular season ending three weeks later than usual because of the lockout, there was no time for Canada to have a training camp or exhibition games.

More than 70 players have joined their national teams straight from the NHL, according to the IIHF.

Eric Staal to wear the 'C'

The Canadian team will look to one of the country's most decorated players for leadership at the 2013 IIHF men's world hockey championship.

Eric Staal was named Canada's captain Thursday. The 28-year-old from Thunder Bay, Ont., is one of only eight Canadian hockey players to win a world championship, Olympic gold medal and Stanley Cup during his career.

Staal was a forward on the last Canadian team to win a world title in 2007. The Carolina Hurricanes captain is the lone player on Canada's roster for the 2013 world championship who won Olympic gold in 2010.

He won a Stanley Cup in 2006.

Red Sox beat Jays

Jacoby Ellsbury and Mike Carp each had a hit and an RBI on Thursday as the Boston Red Sox took advantage of the Toronto Blue Jays' ongoing pitching woes to secure a 3-1 victory.

Ryan Dempster (2-2) of Gibsons, B.C., pitched six innings for Boston (20-8), giving up one run and striking out four. Joel Hanrahan earned his fourth save on the year.

J.A. Happ (2-2) got the start for the Blue Jays (10-19), but struggled with control over his 3 2/3 innings of work, giving up three hits, two earned runs and seven walks.

There's no equipment, no padding — just "your hands, your heart and your mind."

"Those are the things that you bring to the Olympic Games with this sport," Huynh said. "I feel very strongly about this."

The 32-year-old hopes to convey that when she and fellow Olympic gold medallist Daniel Igali plead their sport's case to the International Olympic Committee on May 29 in a bid to keep wrestling on the Games program.

Huynh, a native of Hazelton, B.C., made history at the 2008 Beijing Olympics as Canada's first female gold medallist in the sport then went on to win bronze last summer in London before retiring.

She was floored when she heard the IOC's decision in February to remove wrestling from the 2020 Olympics.

"I was just shocked, I had no idea this was happening, I had no idea that there was any decision like this coming about at that time. It just blew my mind," Huynh said Thursday at an athletes summit for the 2015 Pan American Games in Toronto.

Huynh said there are two avenues wrestling can take to be reinstated. The first is at the May 29 IOC meeting where wrestling will compete with seven other sports for a provisional spot in the 2020 Games. Officials also will lobby the 114-member IOC General Session in September in Buenos Aires in hopes of overturning the executive board's original recommendation by a simple majority vote. Nets avoid elimination again, push Bulls to Game 7

NBA playoffs. Brooklyn barely holds on against hard-nosed Chicago

Deron Williams, Brook Lopez and Joe Johnson each scored 17 points, and the Brooklyn Nets again avoided elimination, beating the short-handed Chicago Bulls 95-92 Thursday to tie their first-round series 3-3.

The series goes back to Brooklyn for Game 7 on Saturday. The winner gets Miami in the second round. The Bulls hung in until the end even though they were missing Luol Deng and Kirk Hinrich.

A layup by Nazr Mohammed cut the Nets' lead to 93-92 with 25.2 seconds remaining.

Nate Robinson then fouled Andray Blatche, who had missed a free throw only moments earlier. This time, he hit both to make it a three-point game with 19.2 seconds left.

The Bulls had a chance to tie it, but Marco Belinelli missed a three-pointer and Joakim Noah stepped out of bounds with about six seconds left.

Chicago still had a chance, though.

Noah tied up Williams after the inbounds, resulting in a jump ball with 3.6 seconds left.

Johnson controlled the ball, and the Nets hung on.

Gerald Wallace added 15 points as Brooklyn won its second straight.

Only eight NBA teams have come back from a 3-1 deficit to win a best-of-seven series. Now the Nets are in position to do just that. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ryder remains calm on Giro title defence

Cycling. Canada's defending champ looks to channel his aggression in Grand Tour of Italy

Ryder Hesjedal may be a marked man at this year's Giro d'Italia, but the Canadian cyclist says he has never been more relaxed.

Hesjedal will try to become the first rider to win back-to-back Giro titles since Spain's Miguel Indurain in 1992 and 1993 when the iconic race begins Saturday in Naples, Italy.

Hesjedal was considered a strong rider heading into last year's 95th running of the race — he was fifth at the 2010 Tour de France — but he was still an outsider in a field of top European racers that included two-time winner Ivan Basso and defending champion Michele Scarponi.

Undaunted, the Victoria native stayed in the mix with consistent performances in each stage and took the pink jersey on the race's final day, becoming the first Canadian to win a Grand Tour event and the second non-European to win the Giro.

Hesjedal won't be flying under the radar this year, and the likes of 2012 Tour de France winner and Olympic gold medallist Bradley Wiggins and Italian favourite Vincenzo Nibali will be gunning for him. But Hesjedal has been buoyed by his preparation for the gruelling 21-stage race, which finishes in Brescia in May 26.

"I have that confidence, and I'm relaxed in the sense that I've already won the Giro," Hesjedal said Thursday in a phone interview from Naples.

Hesjedal was instrumental in helping his Garmin-Sharp teammate Daniel Martin win the Volta a Catalunya in Spain and the Liege-Bastogne-Liege race in Belgium leading up to the Giro.

Seizing the moment

"You have to force the race at different times and take your chances."

Victoria cyclist Ryder Hesjedal discusses his strategy for the Giro d'Italia.

He showed some aggression in Belgium, making a solo breakaway with about 15 kilometres to go and ultimately finishing eighth.

"I feel stronger than last year," said Hesjedal. "I've done the hard work and gone through the moments where there's no guarantees. I said a long time ago it's one thing to win the Giro, but to go back there again to try again is a different story."

Hesjedal has no problem challenging other competitors and won awards for his aggressive riding three times in 2010.

He said he will bring that measured aggression to the 2013 Giro. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Horoscopes

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20
There is more than one way to reach your destination, so don't get upset if your current path is blocked. Aries are inventive, so use your mind to acquire what it is you desire.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21
It would appear that someone you work with has been less than honest with you. Most likely it won't affect you but it will cause you to think twice before you trust them again.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21
You may not have all the answers to life's big questions but you do know enough to tell someone they are talking nonsense. Don't back off just because they have a reputation that you don't. The truth trumps everything

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23
You will be surprised to find yourself agreeing with someone whose views you usually dismiss as irrelevant. Maybe they do have something to say. Maybe they can teach you something new.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23
Interesting information will come your way soon and you must use it to improve your bargaining power. Your rivals would not ignore it, so why should you?

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23
The very last thing you should do today is to try to force people to see things your way. Persuasion is always better than coercion.

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23
When you ask a straight question you expect a straight answer and if you don't get it today you can be pretty sure someone is hiding something from you.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22
What's your big idea? You do have one, don't you? The planets are working in your favour now and if you run with that idea you could make a name for yourself – and maybe a fortune to go with it!

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
How can you make your life more interesting – and more profitable too? Give it some thought over the next day and soon you'll have had one of those light bulb moments.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20
You are determined to get your way but others are just as keen to stop you getting your way. So what do you do? Trick them by pushing for the opposite of what you actually want. It might just work.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19
Your rational mind may reject what you see or hear today but a deeper part of you will know at once that it is true. If in doubt always listen to your inner voice. It has the answers.

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20
Don't be too domineering, especially when dealing with loved ones. You know that what they are doing will end in tears but, if they won't listen, they'll just have to find out for themselves. SALLY BROMPTON
